

INDIANA TEACHERS CHOSEN AS STATE FINALISTS FOR PRESIDENTIAL TEACHING AWARD

The following teachers have been selected as 2018 Indiana State Finalists for the Presidential Awards for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching (PAEMST). State Finalists represent outstanding teachers who serve as both models and inspirational leaders to students and fellow teachers.

Megan Dunn
Clinton Central Elementary School
Michigantown, IN

Michael Maesch
Knapp Elementary School
Michigan City, IN

Holly Miller
Riverside Intermediate School
Fishers, IN

Each of these Indiana K-6 mathematics teachers is eligible to receive a PAEMST award, the nation's highest honor for U.S. K-12 mathematics and science teachers. The National Science Foundation (NSF) on behalf of The White House Office of Science and Technology Policy administers the awards program.

Teachers who are selected as PAEMST awardees receive:

- a trip to Washington, D.C., where they attend a series of recognition events and professional development opportunities;
- a $10,000 award from NSF; and
- a Presidential certificate.
